Dear Paul-Hal,

In speaking to Jean Sunday, he said Joan is inviting me to stay with her. I had solicited this invitation. He said, I presume just assuming it, that she also would lend me one of her cars. I can drive, but I do not know my way around your area. No direct word yet.

He also told me Hal has a job. This leads me to believe I will not have the excellent chauffeuring services I have enjoyed in the past, at least part of the time.

Perhaps, with the reduced media interest he reports, this may be less of a problem than it would have been in the past.

However, if her spacious accomodations are available, does this simplify things for you or is the contrary true? There are some things I want to discuss with her in private, which will not require a very long time. If I can, should I stay there all the time or just part of it?

Just yesterday, a chance I might have had to get private help with COUP D'ETAT was seriously interfered with by my not having the tape of the Golden Gate Park meeting with Keating. I again remind you of the promise to me that I would be given a copy. I still want and need it.

If, separate from the work we are all engaged in, there could be a series of scholarly studies, can you consu among yourselves and give me a memorandum of what they shou includes, try to cover, stay away from, etc. Like one of political assassinations in the United States, by scholars not investigators.

Sincerely,
